Thanks. Is the plant at the end of Birch st? Having trouble locating the address on google. Looks like's a couple lagoons at the end of Birch st, guessing that's the plant.

Ok. You should have the existing permits at the facilities as well, of course. That's one of the first things we look for.

Can we meet at the WWTP at 8am on Tuesday? We would like to look at the Birch Hill Lagoon first then head back to the plant to begin the WWTP inspection. Understanding that the technical discussion will have to wait until the afternoon.

My cell number is Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP) if anything comes up.

Thanks,
Dean

Sure not a problem.

I will ask IHS to bring the plant schematics but I can provide you with what I have at the plant. Im not sure what you want in regards to the sludge process as we have never dealt with sludge before. Lab process I will have you speak with an operator as I have never done the lab work and I am sure you all have the permits at the EPA.

That's fine. We just want to better understand the plant and we'll save technical questions for the afternoon. Perhaps we can take a look at the lagoons if we have time.

There a few things we would like to see on Tuesday. Or if you could provide any of the following info in advance that would help save time:

- plant schematics for WWTP
- sludge process & records
- Lab testing process/protocols
- copies of permits for the three facilities

Thanks,
Dean

Yes of course as long as you understand I am not an engineer and will not be able to answer many of your questions.

I think so. Could we at least do an inspection of the plant in the morning? Then spend some time in the afternoon discussing upgrades?

Thanks,
Dean

It turns out that the key members of the controls update at the WWTP will be in the area in the morning but will not be available to meet until 1:30ish in the afternoon of the 27th. Would this work for you?

Thanks Pat.

Also, as we discussed, we can meet to discuss plant issues and conduct an inspection at the WWTP on the morning of Tuesday, August 27. Then we will attend the hearing in the evening, and head back to the office the next morning.

Here is the draft sent to me from which the Human Resources Department posted. The posting will expire on August 17th at which time we will be scheduling interviews the following week. Depending on the candidate chosen it is difficult to determine a time when the new manager will start. It is my hope to get the person started before the middle of September.

Pat: I reviewed the information you provided yesterday and have a some follow-up questions.

- 1) Can you provide a copy of the operator vacancy announcement by August 9, 2013?
- 2) Given where you are with the operator recruitment process, do you have a projected start date for the new operator? Or perhaps a schedule of milestones for the recruitment process?
- 3) It appears that the I&I report is expected to be finalized by 12/31/13. In the interim, can you provide the current draft version of the I&I Report by August 30, 2013?

Please provide any responses to the questions above by August 9, 2013.

Thanks,
Dean

This is a compliance plan submitted to me today from the EPA. It consists of many time lines including next Monday. Can we use Ty's document coupled with some time lines and send to EPA?
